Sports challenge accepted

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Daring Don Shane, the flamboyant sports anchor-reporter for Channel 7 (WXYZ), has accepted the challenge to play one-on-one basketball with Romulus Senior High School one-armed history teacher Harry Willnus.

Shane this week accepted Willmus' challenge and will visit the high school new gym area for the face-off at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 4. Various high school students will witness the videotaped adventure, Marge Bergman, Romulus High School alumni director revealed, "but we haven't decided yet what the criteria will be for students to view the challenge."

The basketball challenge is the latest in the efforts by Bergman and others to entice Romulus graduates to attend the alumni "Coming Home" activity week (Jan. 31 to Feb. 6) and sign-up time.

All Romulus High School graduates from 1929 to 1992 are eligible to join the recently created Romulus Alumni Association. Members earn free or discounted tickets to various high school and alumni events, Bergman explained.

More than 70 have already enrolled, she explained, and that number is growing daily.

Valedictorians from any past graduating class can earn a free alumni membership by contacting Bergman's office at the high school, 941-2170.

Marci Tomchick, valedictorian last year, was the first to gain such a free membership, Bergman said. Tomchick is currently a student at the University of Michigan. She previously was a member of the National Honor Society and was manager of the 1992 basketball team.

Other activities planned for that week are a chili cookoff, basketball, volleyball and euche tournaments and a reception for the alumni members.

Bergman said all alumni who sign on by Feb. 27 will be considered charter members.

Alumni need to contact her for official sign up papers for any of the above listed competitions, including the three on three basketball tournament. Tournament costs are $2 for non alumni members and free for alumni.

Tournament finals are slated for the night of Feb. 3. The following night the chili cookoff is planned in the school cafeteria. The event is being co-sponsored by the Romulus Rotary Club.

Even non-city residents and non-alumni are invited to compete in the various tournaments, but all participants must register with Bergman in advance.

Current high school students will be competing that week also for spirit points and possession of the "Spirit Jug" currently in the hands of the senior class.

The climax of student activities will be Feb. 6 at which time the first Snow Queen and her court will be crowned. That night the alumni will be offered a free reception at 7:30 p.m. in the new field house lobby.

Following the crowning of the Snow Queen at 9:30 p.m., alumni will be invited to continue the festivities at the Romulus Holiday Inn Lounge.

Renovations may close city library for months

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Will the Romulus Public Library be forced to close down for six months during the asbestos removal effort this year?

Plans for such asbestos removal at both the library and Romulus City Hall are currently under way, but answers for questions about when the process will begin and end remain unanswered.

One possibility being discussed in City Hall is the closing of the library in March or April to allow asbestos to be removed and a sprinkler system to be installed.

Romulus Library Director Diane Hazen said she had initially been informed that the library might be closed in mid-February. "But we can't do that now, because I need at least a month to contact our patrons and other persons interacting with the library, as well as to take care of many of the other transitional elements that would be included in such a period."

After the physical work is completed, Romulus City Hall offices could be moved inside the library for the duration, while similar work is conducted there, a city spokesman said.

During that period, City Council meetings could be conducted in the 34th District Court building.

While library employees are technically on the staff of Wayne County, Hazen said, "The city of Romulus owns the building and books and reimburses the county for our salaries."

"We have them almost all ready, except for adding some new software, but we have to await a final decision on our move."

- Kim Potter
Children's Library Director

"I guess City Hall (Mayor Beverly McAnally and the city council members) will have the final decision as to whether we close down entirely, re-locate or set up some type of limited library service unit," Hazen explained.

Several possible temporary library sites have been discussed, Hazen said, but declined to name them at this time.

Another possibility, Hazen explained, is to have a hot-line system directing Romulus Public Library patrons to Belleville, Wayne or Taylor Libraries for various needs.

All sides are wondering how City Hall offices could be relocated even on a temporary basis at the neighboring library building. "It's like putting 10 pounds of potatoes in a 5-pound bag," one official quipped.

To add to the confusion, Children's Library Director Kim Potter said she had expected to open a pair of Macintosh Computers for local patron use sometime this month.

"We have them almost all ready, except for adding some new software, but we have to await a final decision on our move," Potter explained.

One of the computers (according to the library grant proposal) is to be reserved for children of pre-school and elementary school age. The other is slated for use by junior and senior high school-age students (and adults).

The computer for the younger children will include various educational programs, such as "Book Brain" a system that encourages children to read books.

The computer for the older youth and adults will include a word processor and laser printer.

Two library offerings slated for this month remain on tap, Potter said.

The first will be at 1 p.m. this Saturday, when Ronald McDonald will pay the children a visit and read a book and entertain those in attendance. Ronald's visit is being sponsored by the Wayne Road McDonald Restaurant in Romulus.

The following Saturday, also at 1 p.m., a story teller named Shanta from Chicago will offer folk tales and poems relating to experiences of American, Caribbean and African residents.

Her 45-minute production is being sponsored by the Michigan Humanities Council, Potter said.

There is no charge to attend either performance.

Questions surround crash deaths

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Police chases after robbery suspects in Van Buren Township, Romulus and Madison Heights that have resulted in the deaths five individuals in the past week have prompted questions regarding the pursuit policies of various police departments.

The death of two Romulus family members, John Brady, 30, and his 51-year-old mother, Reva, sparked such questions from family friends and neighbors.

While some felt that the number of police chases should be diminished, many others (particularly law enforcement officials) stressed the answer could be stronger legislation to penalize the felons in the getaway cars.

In the local incident, two unidentified suspects reportedly robbed an employee of the Aspen Party Store in Belleville last Thursday and fled into Romulus racing through two or more red traffic lights, police said.

Unfortunately for the Brady family members enroute to a store to purchase medication for a third family member, the high speed chase was climaxed by the crash of the fleeing car into the Brady's pick-up truck.

Despite swift action by bystanders in pulling the Brady mother and son from the damaged truck, it is believed the pair were killed instantly.

The force of the crash ripped the bed off the rear of the truck and sent it spinning off the roadway. Shortly after the fatally injured pair were freed from the cab, police report the vehicle burst into flames.

Romulus firefighters rushed to the scene extinguished the flames and attempted to revive the Bradys.

Meanwhile Van Buren and Romulus police officers rushed to the smashed 1991 Chevrolet Lumina and quickly apprehended the pair wanted for the earlier robbery.

Seeing a shotgun lying on the back seat next to a seriously injured suspect, police smashed a rear window and confiscated the weapon.

The unidentified male (believed to be from Detroit) found sprawled in the rear seat was flown to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Despite reports of his death, the accused suspect is reportedly still alive and faces robbery and two murder charges.

The driver of the car (identified only as a 31-year-old Detroit male) was taken to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, where he is under police guard and being treated for head and internal injuries. He was slated to be arraigned on the robbery and murder charges at the hospital sometime this week, police said.

Funeral services for the Bradys were Sunday at the Uht Funeral Home with Pastor Chris Anderson officiating.

John Brady is survived by his father, Larry; a brother, Lester; and two grandmothers, Pearl Brady and Juanita Elkins.

He was predeceased by his grandfather, Vernon Elkins.

Reva Brady was survived by her husband, Larry; a son, Lester; and her mother, Juanita.

She also was predeceased by her father, Vernon Elkins.

Cremation rites were accorded both family members.

A similar crash and resultant innocent victim deaths occurred three days later in Madison Heights.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

No city workers illegally use sewer

No city employees are illegally tapping into the local sewer system, Mayor Beverly McAnally said last week.

"Because of Councilman Jimmie Raspberry's charge that some city employees may be tapping into the local sewers, we did a city employee survey," McAnally said.

"We discovered that one employee was not using the sewer system and all others were paying for the service," she said.

McAnally said a great deal of displeasure was voiced by the employees over the charge made by Raspberry, particularly since he did not want to give any possible names.

Library begins winter programs

The Romulus Public Library began winter story time sessions for children 3 and older Tuesday.

The story hours will be at 7 p.m. on Tuesdays and at 10:30 a.m. on Thursdays (beginning today). The sessions include story readings, finger plays and crafts. Parents are urged to register their children for the program.

Ronald McDonald will make a special appearance at the library at 1 p.m. this Saturday for a storytime session with the children. The visit is being sponsored by the local McDonald's Restaurant on Wayne Road.

The following Saturday at 1 p.m., Shanta will offer chants, songs and stories of African cultures from around the world. The program is funded by a grant from the Michigan Humanities Council.

Hayes Wheels names 2 to board

John S. Rodewig and Kenneth L. Way have been named to the Hayes Wheels International Board of Directors.

Hayes Wheels of Romulus, formed in December, is the world's leader in the manufacture, design and supply of aluminum and steel wheels to original wheel manufacturers of passenger cars and trucks.

Rodewig is president and chief operating officer of Eaton Corp.

Way is chairman and chief operating officer of Lear Seating Corp., the largest independent manufacturer of automotive seating in the world.

Chamber dinner tickets available

Tickets remain available for the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce 13th annual awards banquet honoring local businessman Bill Crane as the chamber "person of the year."

Chamber Executive Secretary Karan Cantrell said the dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. March 26 at the Clarion Hotel (formerly the Holiday Inn).

The tickets costing $30 each must be ordered and paid for by March 18, Cantrell said.

Murder trial still on hold

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The trial of a Virginia man wanted in connection with a Romulus murder in 1978 is apparently on hold while Wayne County Sheriff's deputies await his return to the area.

Daniel Ray Dowling, now 44, was arrested in Front Royal, Va. on Nov. 10, 1992 in connection with the Romulus shooting death of Joanne Lincoln, 23, on Aug. 28, 1978.

But Virginia court deliberations in December led to a delay in his extradition hearing until early in February 1993.

Public safety officials in both Michigan and Virginia revealed that Dowling had asked permission to be allowed to return to this area on his own, rather than in handcuffs.

When that offer was rejected by Wayne County authorities, the February date was set.

Sheriff's investigators refuse to divulge any information about what caused them to reopen the 14-year-old Lincoln murder case "until Dowling arrives back in Wayne County."

According to sheriff's reports at the time, Lincoln was fatally wounded in an apartment she shared with Dowling in Romulus. She was first taken to the old Wayne County General Hospital and later was transferred to the University of Michigan Hospitals in Ann Arbor.

Lincoln died two days later.

Dowling reportedly was questioned in connection with the shooting death at the time, sheriff's records show.

But he claimed then that a shot was fired through their open apartment window in a building at Middlebelt and Ecorse roads. That building is no longer standing.

Lt. Dan Mefford of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department revealed in mid-November 1992 that "new evidence" had been discovered and that led to the "open murder" warrant filed in Virginia.

Dowling also was charged with a felony firearms rap in the warrant.

Once Dowling arrives in Wayne County the "open murder" charge will be re-defined, Mefford explained.

Dowling reportedly used his wife's day care business and his own auto-related firm as collateral to post $100,000 bail in November.

According to court records in Warren County, Va., Dowling was born in Detroit and moved to Brownstown, Va. in the 1980s. Since then he has owned and operated a business known as Bonnie Glen Motorhaus in Front Royal, Va.

Dowling reportedly repairs and sells used cars in Virginia, authorities confirmed.

Victims

Killed in that accident were April F. Vance, 18, and her boyfriend, Michael J. Miller, 19. Both resided in Roseville.

The pair and a third occupant in their car, George Fulkerson, 21, of Madison Heights (who died later), were fatally injured when their car was rammed by a van containing two Detroit men being chased after a "smash and grab" burglary at a Novi computer store.

The suspect duo reportedly were operating a stolen vehicle, which they used to smash through the plate glass doors of the computer store. The owner claims $15,000 in computer equipment was stolen.

Just as in the Romulus case, the two Detroit men were charged with burglary and three murder charges.

A mother and son were killed riding in the truck (pictured above) when a vehicle (pictured below) occupied by two suspects in a Van Buren Township robbery sped through a red light and crashed into their vehicle. ANP Special Photo

Laich has been a member of the MUCC for 30 years and a life member and past president of the National Wildlife Federation, National Rifle Association, Michigan Forestry Association, Friends of the Rouge River, Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation and vice president of the MUCC Limited Liability Pool Insurance.

He is a 1991 recipient of the Harold Hackett Award, which is the highest award presented to a person in conservation by the MUCC.

Romulus marketing session scheduled

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A half-day strategic planning session is being slated for Feb. 19 by the recently organized Romulus marketing group, Acting Chairman Mark Lewkowicz said.

Lewkowicz, who also serves as president of the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce, said the effort to market the city of Romulus as a place to live and do business is growing.

While no official name has been selected yet, he said, interviews have been set up with a number of professional consultants prior to the Feb. 19 date.

Lewkowicz, city Community Development Director Dennis Oakes and Charlotte Mahoney of Detroit Edison will interview and then select one of the consultants to work with the committee "to devise a vision" for their growing effort.

The marketing group has met several times in the past two months for "brainstorming sessions" to help the city with regional and national promotions.

With more than 30 individuals in attendance at recent meetings, Lewkowicz said, it is envisioned in coming months that the group will break down into smaller sub-committees to work on the various needs of a growing city.

Mark Lewkowicz

Within coming months, he said, the committee expects to have representatives from the following areas: state, city and school governmental units, the Chamber of Commerce, banks, service clubs, religious groups, real estate companies, airport management, retail and industrial businesses.

The main marketing unit will include a steering committee that could ultimately include chairmen of the various sub-committees, as well as other members with wide economic ties in the Michigan area.

"We also expect to involve various homeowners in the committee's actions...some of whom may already be members in other roles," Lewkowicz explained.

Senior citizen lunch program to increase

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A new expanded effort to provide food and fellowship for Romulus senior citizens this year has begun.

The weekday luncheons (with a $1.50 suggested donation fee) are offered at the Romulus Recreation Center for senior citizens 60 years and older.

To register, senior citizens need to call Pat Noblett, Romulus Nutrition Manager, at 942-6852 by noon the day before. Then they need to arrive at the recreation center by 11:15 a.m. the day of the luncheon they plan to attend.

The menu changes daily and a monthly menu listing appears in the Romulus Senior Newsletter. The menu can include any of the following, roast beef, vegetable lasagna, pork chops, stuffed peppers, chili, sloppy joes, chicken and turkey.

"We want seniors to be aware that we serve a delicious cooked meal every weekday at 11:30 a.m.," Fran Ryder, downriver coordinator of the Wayne County Office of Nutrition, explained.

"There is more than food involved with our program," she said, "as equally important is the fellowship offered at the recreation facility."

Informal socialization and participation in various activities also are available at the center, she said.

The activities include ceramics on Mondays, Romulus Club activities and pinochle games on Tuesdays, bingo on Wednesdays, craft making sessions and euchre games on Thursdays.

In addition to the in-house social luncheons, Ryder said that 30 or more meals are delivered each day to homebound senior citizens.

The "Meals on Wheels" program, for those unable to leave their house because of illness or infirmity, has been supported in recent years by the City of Romulus.

Persons, who feel they would qualify for such a delivered food program, are urged to call 326-4410 for information.

Chamber selects new officers

Elected as the 1993 executive board of the Huron Township Chamber of Commerce were Ken Moore, president; Joe Viger, first vice president; Gary Jackson, second vice president; Richard Sobocki, treasurer, and Judy Reininger, secretary.

Members of the board of directors are Gary Bates of Grass Roots Nursery, Chris Gamber of Huron Charter Township, David Glaab of David A. Glaab, P.C., and Charlie Grover of Apple Charlie's Orchard.

Other board members are

Barb Heston of Michigan Memorial Park, Gary Jackson of the Huron School District, Doris Labeau of Labeau Realty, Ken Moore of Security Bank and Trust and John Niemann of Niemann Bros. Greenhouse. Also serving on the board are Judy Reininger of Reininger Realty, Jim St. Pierre of New Boston Lumber, Richard Sobocki of Huron-Clinton Metroparks and Joe Viger of V.J.'s Country Pantry.

The chamber will host its first general meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 19 at the Waltz Community Center.

Engler speech set for Thursday

Twenty-second District State Rep. Greg Pitoniak (D-Taylor) vows he will continue to press Gov. John Engler on school finance reform, both before and after the governor's State of the State speech next Tuesday night.

Pitoniak, who now represents Romulus citizens in Lansing, said Engler's speech is slated to begin at 7 p.m. He expects Engler will discuss few budget related issues in his talk, which some feel is the unofficial kick-off of his reelection effort next year.

Engler will undoubtedly speak on school taxes, car insurance and prison management issues, Pitoniak said.

But in the meantime, Pitoniak revealed he has prepared an op-ed piece on school tax reform for a metropolitan daily.

As of press time, Pitoniak still did not know his committee assignments for 1993, but he did inform Democratic State House Leader Curtis Hertel of his preferred committee appointments.

The committees include: transportation, insurance, taxation and education. Pitoniak said he also listed a little known but powerful unit known as the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules.

The local legislator said he also was just informed that Deputy Wayne County Administrator Michael Duggan would be in Romulus City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 9.

Group counts gains in losses

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Reporting weight losses for many individuals of 20 pounds or more - and a record 116-pound loss - during 1992, the Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) group in Belleville counts the past year as a successful one.

"The initials TOPS - Take Off Pounds Sensibly - stands for its philosophy," said Gloria Gardner, leader. "The idea behind TOPS is not quick weight loss, but losing weight through sensible eating on a long-term basis helped along by the encouragement of other club members. The goal is to achieve permanent weight loss."

Gardner said members weigh in each week and their weights are recorded by the chapter weight recorder, Marji Haggerman. Weekly accomplishments are rewarded with little incentives, and backsliding is penalized by small fines.

"The goal for each member is to reach the target weight the individual has worked out with his or her doctor. Men, teens and children, as well as women, are members of TOPS. At the meetings, people discover the real strength of the affection members have for one another. This friendly support is often the impetus that keeps member on track," Gardner said. "When members have reached their goal weight and maintained it for 13 weeks, they become members of Keep Off Pounds Sensibly."

The groups was founded in 1948 by Esther Manz, a Milwaukee housewife. In the past 45 years, the TOPS support groups have grown to more than 300,000 members with 11,600 chapters.

Belleville Area TOPS 380 meets at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays in the fellowship hall of the Belleville United Presbyterian Church, 11900 Belleville Road. Weigh-ins begin an hour earlier. Dues are $16 annually and $1 a week for chapter dues.

Signs of Troubled Feet

If you're having a problem with your feet, you may think it's minor until the discomfort and foot fatigue get out of hand. Any limiting of activities on the job or at home can be a serious problem until your feet get the treatment they need.

There are many signs of troubled feet, and here are a few to watch for. CORNS AND CALLUSES are caused by friction and pressure that may be attributed to defects in the foot's bone structure. WARTS may be mistaken for calluses, but they are really quite different. A wart is a skin growth which has its own blood and nerve supply and tends to spread if left untreated. BUNIONS are caused by misaligned toe joints, usually the big toe, and can become swollen and tender. FUNGUS CONDITIONS, such as athlete's foot, tend to attack the feet in the warm, moist areas between the toes. TOENAIL INFECTIONS, sometimes caused by improperly trimmed nails, can also be caused by structural defects.

If you have any of these signs of troubled feet, see your foot specialist for examination and treatment.

Long distance incarcerations prompt talks

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Convicted misdemeanants from western Wayne Counties communities are spending their sentences in Hillsdale, Gladwin, Isabella and Iosco counties.

It's not that local public safety officials want to provide more scenic surroundings for their prisoners. The reason behind the long-distance lodgings is financial - prisoners are housed in the Wayne County Jail for $65 per day, while out-county facilities charge as little as $27 and $30 per day.

While members of the Conference of Western Wayne are pleased with their bargain-rate lodgings for prisoners, they fear that they may lose the space to state prisoners in the future.

"It's time for this conference to generate a program with a for-profit operator. If we all get together we could make a considerable savings," said Inkster Mayor Edward Bivens. "We should get a couple of people to come in and talk to us about it."

- Edward Bivens Mayor

made presentations to area communities about their plans to build private jails to house misdemeanants.

"In 1986, we were paying $55 per day for facilities to house prisoners, and we were glad to do it. Then, the out-counties started to make facilities available at cheaper prices," said Dearborn Police Chief Ron Deriel. "The danger is that the state is now looking at the same idea. The communities that are now serving us, may see the state as a bigger money-maker. In the future, we might get shut out of these facilities if the state enters long-term contracts with them."

Deriel said he does not want to face a lose of facilities without an alternate plan.

The Inkster mayor said it is imperative for the 18 members of the conference to begin investigating alternate methods of housing misdemeanor prisoners to avert a future crisis.

Local police departments house their convicted misdemeanants in the following facilities:

- Belleville, Dickerson in Hamtramck $55 per day.
- Canton Township, Hillsdale County, $40 per day.
- Dearborn, Huron County, $27 per day.
- Dearborn Heights, Hillsdale and Allegan counties, $30 and $40 per day.
- Garden City, Clinton

County, $30 per day.

- Huron Township, Trenton jail and Gladwin and Hillsdale counties, $43, $30 and $35 per day.
- Livonia, Isabella County, $38 per day.
- Northville, Wayne, Oakland and Hillsdale counties, $65 and $35.
- Northville Township, Hillsdale County, $41.
- Plymouth, Dickerson (weekends) and Hillsdale, $30 per day.
- Plymouth Township, Hillsdale County, $30 per day.
- Redford Township, Eaton County, $35 to $40 per day.
- Romulus, Clinton, Hillsdale and Isabella counties, $35 to $38.
- Sumpter Township, Dickerson and Trenton jail, $55 per day.
- Westland, Hillsdale and Iosco counties, $30 and $27 per day.
- Westland, Hillsdale and Iosco counties, $30 and $27 per day.

Inkster, Wayne and Van Buren Township utilize the services of State Wide Transport.

"After prisoners are sentenced in the district court, we have State Wide Transport convey them to a facility for the 10- to 60-day sentence," said Van Buren Township Public Safety Director Mark Perkins. "It is a big savings in time for us, because we don't have to use our officers to transport the prisoners."

State Wide Transport, which is based in Livonia, is staffed by retired police officers who are also sworn deputies to the sheriff of the county to which they are being transported.

Most eligible singles in area are sought

We know they're out there. We've seen them and admit to having cast a few lustful or at least curious glances their way. They are men and women, of any age, who always seem to catch the eye, and the heart, of the opposite sex. You know the type. No matter where or when, they can always find a date, often too many dates.

We'd like to meet them and introduce these "most desirable" singles to our readers. The qualifications are simple. They must be single, reside in our circulation area and someone has to nominate them.

Our expert panel of judges will select the winners by the number of entries received for individuals, although we are often swayed by the quality of writing in entries. A photo of the nominee would be helpful, but is not essential.

Got it?

Great. Get writing. Who is the most desirable single you know? And, obvious reasons aside, what makes them so attractive or appealing to the opposite sex?

Hurry, because we plan to announce the winners around Valentines Day, which certainly seems appropriate to us.

Send entries to: SINGLES CONTEST, Associated Newspapers, Inc. P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Casting call

Local man answers call of soap opera limelight

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

A 21-year-old Westland resident was recently considered for a part in Guiding Light—a soap opera that appears on CBS.

Sean Rhaesa was one of 500 men who tried out for the part of Hart Jessup last Monday at Channel 2 studios in Southfield.

Although Rhaesa has no experience in acting, he decided to go to the audition and stand in line for almost 12 hours thinking it might just be his lucky day.

"I thought there was a chance I could get the job," Rhaesa said. "My mom watches Guiding Light and she mentioned the auditions in this area and I thought why not go out and give it a shot. It didn't hurt anything."

It made for a long day, but Rhaesa said he would do it again if the opportunity arose.

"It was worth it for the experience," he added. But Rhaesa had another reason for going to the audition.

"The reason I would do it again is because when you get a part in a show like that a lot of money is involved," Rhaesa said. "That's why most people were there."

Once Rhaesa was called by the producer, he was asked where he works.

"There were two to three people called in at a time," said Rhaesa, who was number 380. "I gave her a color photo and other people brought portfolios."

Some of the portfolios were valued at $1,000. None of the applicants were asked to read for the part, according to Rhaesa.

"The producer told us that they were just trying to see everyone's face and hear everyone's voice," Rhaesa said. "Then she told us she would call us that night if we were chosen."

That night Rhaesa waited for the phone to ring and when it did, he was the first one to pick it up.

Of the 500 people who auditioned, 25 were chosen to come back and of those people, five additional men were chosen to go to New York City to audition for the part.

More than 500 men from the area went to Southfield, but only 500 were allowed to audition, according to Rhaesa.

Some of the 500 men waiting to audition made money without going in to meet with the casting directors or the producer of the show.

"Some people sold their spot in line," Rhaesa said. "Some of the spots were sold for up to $100."

Rhaesa, although he was tempted, did not sell his spot.

The numerous applicants who flocked to Southfield were there because it was a rare chance for them to appear before casting agents.

"It's very hard to get in front of a casting agent, especially one from New York," Rhaesa said.

Most of the applicants were models, according to Rhaesa who is a classified sales representative at Associated Newspapers in Wayne.

Westland resident and Wayne Memorial High School graduate Sean Rhaesa, 21, was among the more than 500 aspiring actors who stood in line for a chance to audition for The Guiding Light in Detroit last week. ANP photo by Larry Divizio

A cautious optimism

We're waiting. We want to hope, and we keep trying to be optimistic, but like everyone else, we're cautious after having been disappointed so many times in the past.

Our tentative hope is in the economy and the future. While every January brings with it the hope for better things in the burgeoning new year, 1993 will bring us a new president, new frontiers and new world boundaries. It will also bring new problems.

This optimism and this hope, tentative though they may be, are no more than evidence of the human spirit. While quite often it is disguised as cynicism and covered with sarcasm, beneath that crust of negativism, lurks a tiny flicker of hope.

We see it and hear it in the comments and attitudes of our civic and municipal officials. We can detect just a glimmer of optimism from some of the long-suffering business owners in the area, and we admire both their perseverance and their human spirit.

Mankind, it would appear, has that one ineffable quality that sings through the blood without discipline or effort. We breathe, therefore we hope.

And, as this new year begins, we cannot help but give in to that hope and listen to the music of pundits telling us that the economy may just improve, that the efforts in Somalia may pay off and save some lives, that the new borders in those far off countries may result in a better world order.

We listen and we hope. We hope we, as a country, have elected a leader who will find solutions and put people in place to do what needs done. We hope we, as a state, can find our way back from the devastating blows to our primary industry and find new jobs and a new way of helping others.

And locally, we hope for solutions to the business problems so recurrent and abundant in this area. We hope to see the doors of closed businesses open and we hope to see a return to prosperity in our area.

We hope our leaders will have learned from the mistakes of the past and look toward new ideas and solutions for the future. We hope that tradition will be respected and cherished and that new ideas and systems embraced and valued.

Only time will tell.

The true test

It is the season of panic, over reaction and misunderstanding. Educators will be tried by a jury of parents and school administrators will be either praising or defending their policies. There will be those puffed up with false pride and those defending perfectly responsible and effective actions. It is the time the annual Michigan Education Assessment Program scores are revealed.

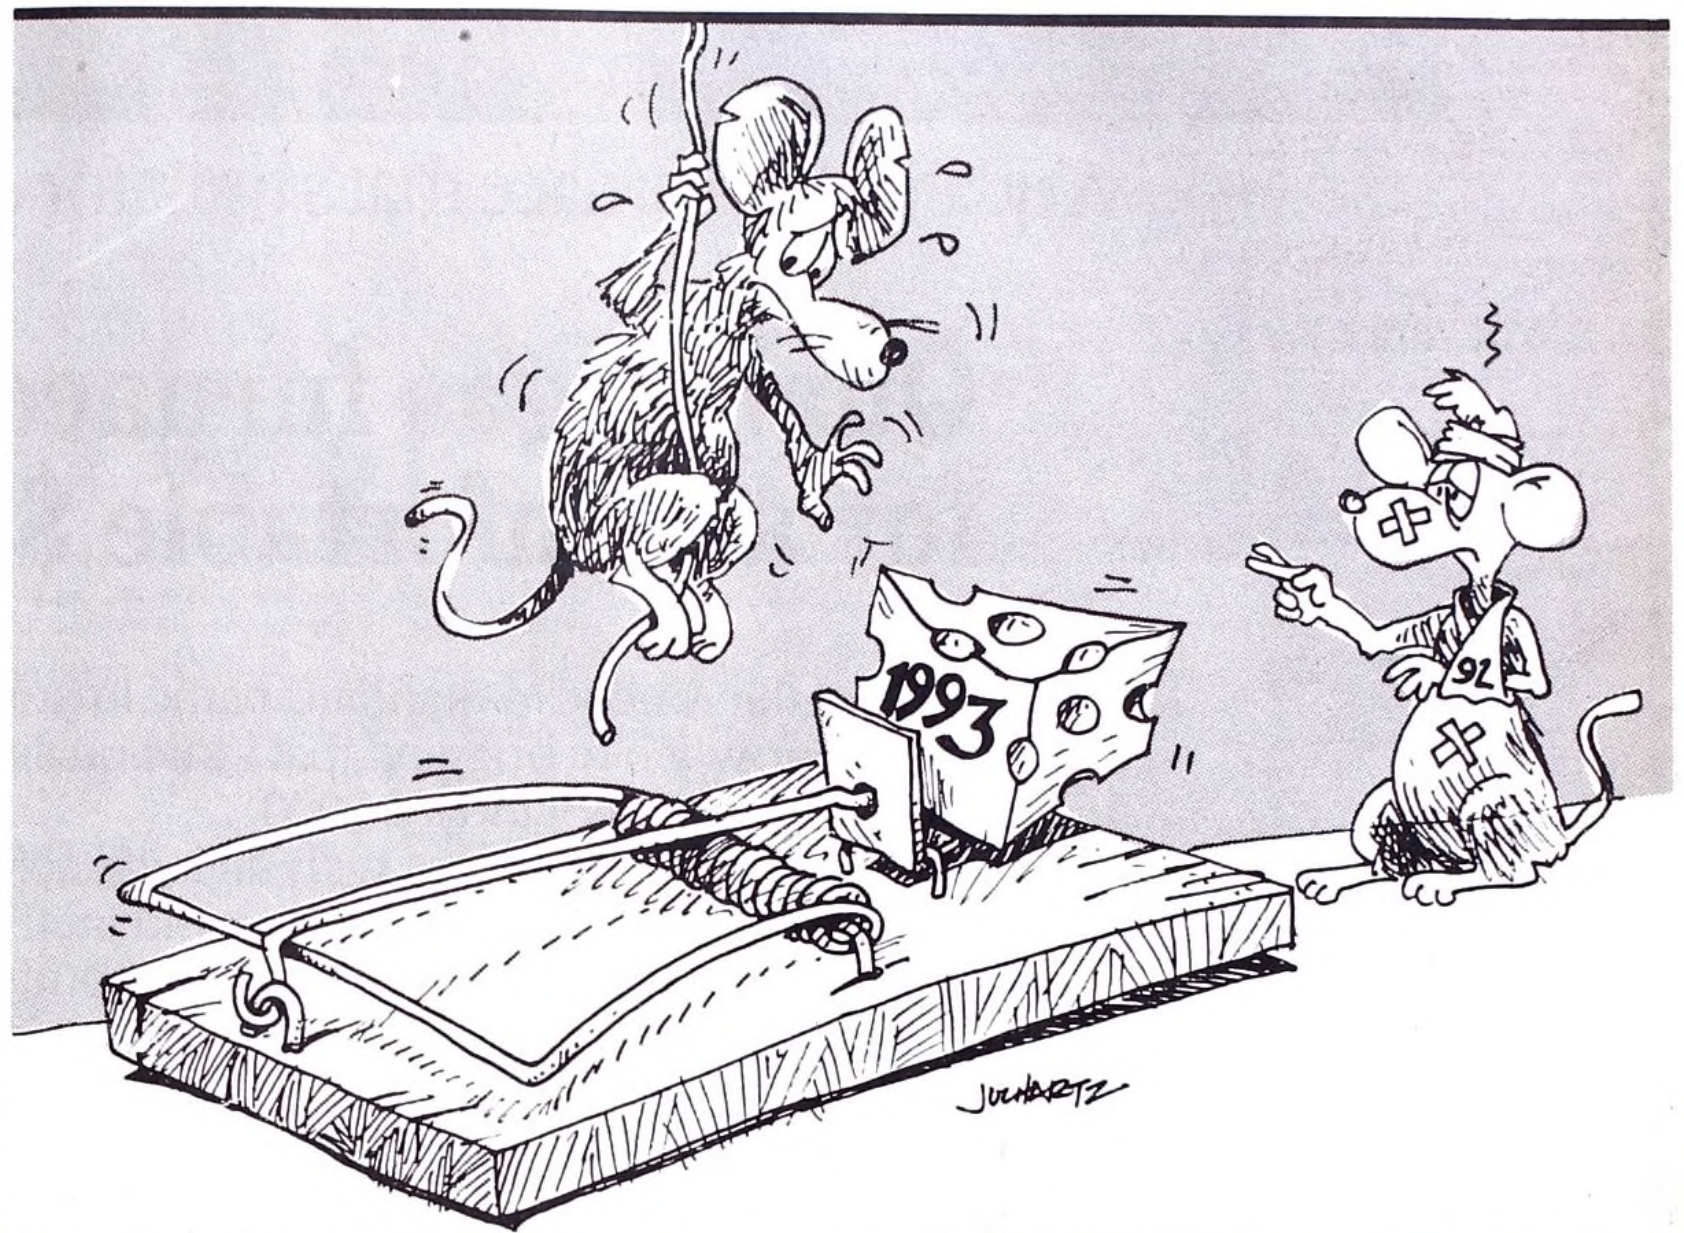

Parents will read the scores and decide their children are either being well educated or that their tax money is being wasted on teachers who are not doing the job. Building principals will face administrators and administrators will face superintendents and all will face the music—sort of.

These tests are ill used, misunderstood and nearly always misinterpreted. Too many parents and educators themselves do not understand the scoring and the use of the testing. And too often the panic and desire to do well on these annual tests dictates the curriculum in local schools.

These tests merely assess how children across the state are doing in specific areas at a specific time in their education. Lower scores do not always mean that a child is not being well taught or well educated. And excellent scores do not always mean that a student is actually receiving a good, well-balanced education.

We urge parents to demand much more of every school district than merely acceptable MEAP scores, and we urge them to determine the acceptability and performance of the administration and teachers in their children's district based on much more than these scores.

Accept the scores for what they are worth, a teaching and assessment tool. They are not the criteria on which to base any judgment of a school district—good or bad.

Canton meetings are criticized

To the editor:

I've been reading so much in the papers lately about the team in Canton and how smoothly the board meetings are run. A few years ago if more than two people ran for election together the papers labeled them a slate and how abhorrent it was, for they would control. Then along comes the team of seven and the new media doesn't condemn the concept, but in fact, endorses the majority of them. One reporter, though condemning the meetings for being boring, praised the concept of the team.

Well let's see how the team performs:

Minutes of Sept. 8. Meeting started at 7:05 p.m. recessed at 8:35, reopened and closed at 9 p.m. This was a public hearing on police and fire millage. there were 22 motions made, 18 by Mr. Bennett. All passed unanimously by members present. Meeting lasted for 90 minutes, making for an average of four minutes per motion.

September 22. Opened at 7:06, closed at 9:31, total of 85 minutes. Twenty five motions made, 20 by Kirchgatter, five by Mr. Bennett after Mr. Yack appeared at 8:55. All motions passed unanimously by members present. Average of three and 2/5 minutes per motion.

October 6. Opened at 7:07, closed at 8:29, total of 82 minutes. Five motions made, all by Mr. Bennett, all unanimously passed. Average of 16 minutes per motion. This was a study meeting.

October 13. Opened at 7:10, closed at 8:55, total of 105 minutes. Twenty nine motions made, 28 by Mr. Bennett, all passed unanimously. Average of six minutes per motion.

October 27. Opened at 7 p.m., closed at 8:34 p.m., total of 94 minutes. Fifteen motions made, 23 by Mr. Bennett, all passed unanimously. Average of six minutes per motion.

November 10. Opened 7:15, closed 7:59 p.m., total of 44 minutes. Twenty four motions made, 23 by Mr. Bennett, all passed unanimously. Less than two minutes per motion.

November 24. Opened 7 p.m., closed at 8:15 p.m., total of 75 minutes. Sixteen motions made, 15 by Mr. Bennett, all passed unanimously but one. Average of four and one-half minutes per motion.

December 8. Opened at 7:03, closed at 8:35, total of 92 minutes. Twenty one motions made, 20 by Mr. Bennett, all passed unanimously but one. Average of four and two-fifths minutes per motion.

to the board as a team, I say they are nothing more than a gang of yesses, and could be replaced by robots. I would like to quote Detroit News Editor Mr. Bray in his column of Nov. 15, 1992. "It is the argument of strong men everywhere that their communities can't afford dissent and dissension. But a city whose people don't feel free to criticize each other is a city where all rights are problematic. This kind of 'unity' is a weakness rather than a strength."

I recall somewhere that: "Power corrupts, absolute power corrupts absolutely". But that could never happen in Canton. Keep tuned for there is more to come.

To the editor:

We wish to express our gratitude to all the planners, workers, entertainers and attendees (of First Night, a New Year's Eve celebration in Wayne). We were skeptical about this venture when it started out and were pleasantly surprised at the enjoyment that we derived from this marvelous production.

Everyone we came in contact with was pleasant and all of the entertainment we were able to attend was excellent.

Thanks again to everyone involved for this special New Year's Eve celebration.

Governor Engler evaluates year

To the editor:

Michigan is leading the nation in reforming and changing government to better serve the people. We have also created a more positive environment for job providers, helping to create new jobs and opportunity.

Writing for the Reader's Digest, Robert Novak said that Michigan is "on the cutting edge of governmental reform," and that Lansing is a laboratory "to determine how this country will be governed in the next century."

Michigan has come a long way since the day some three years ago that I began a campaign for Michigan's Governor with a simple three-step agenda for change—the Taxpayer's Agenda.

- First, cutting taxes to create jobs.

- Second, improving schools and making education our top budget priority.

- And third, right-sizing and reforming state government. Let's take a look at the results. We've cut taxes three times, helping to boost Michigan's small job providers and preserving small family-owned businesses. We froze property taxes, saving homeowners some $400 million—the largest tax cut in state history.

Despite an initial deficit of $1.8 billion, prudent fiscal management has allowed Michigan to maintain a solid credit rating. AT the same time, we have consistently made the tough decisions needed balance the state budget without raising taxes.

We've increased funding for schools, raising the percentage of state budget spending for K-12 schools from 8.7 percent to 13.7 percent. We have also moved ahead with Michigan 2000, an aggressive agenda to improve schools and student performance that includes innovations such as the Michigan Education Warranty, Teacher Tenure Reform and charter public schools.

We've reduced the size of state government. Today, about 59,000 permanent employees work for the State of Michigan—compared to more than 64,000 just two years ago. And throughout state government, we have worked diligently to restructure operations to improve services and reduce waste. We have also implemented innovative programs to help create jobs and make Michigan a better place to live. Highlights include:

- "To Strengthen Michigan Families," our innovative welfare reform plan that requires public service as a condition for receiving assistance;

- The "Build Michigan" program which will improve our state's roads and bridges and support 18,000 jobs;

- Expanding Michigan exports and creating new jobs through trade missions to Europe and the Middle East;

- A cooperative effort with industry to provide free vaccines for every Michigan child.

In addition, state employees have contributed by agreeing to a wage freeze in both the 1992 and 1993 budget years. Many employees have also agreed to tie future pay increases to reductions in the growing cost of health care benefits. Overall, experts estimate that these innovative wage agreements have already saved the taxpayers more than $400 million.

The changes we have implemented are already reflected in the improving economic climate in our state. Michigan's level of employment is at its highest level in two and a half years, with 4,267,000 people working and providing for their families. Michigan leads the Midwest in new business startups. We're second in the nation in gaining tax competitiveness.

Job growth in our state is more than three times above the national average. Over the past year, the number of jobs has increased by almost 3.8 percent, with 155,000 new jobs added to Michigan payrolls. Most importantly, our unemployment rate continues to fall—faster than other large states. As a result, our job climate is now better than that in California, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York.

We've done well, but we can do better. And we will do better to make sure 1993 will be even greater. Our job now is to roll up our sleeves, put an end to gridlock and give the people what they want—action.

As we look ahead to 1993, our agenda for change is ambitious. Among the first items on our agenda will be plans to increase economic development and create jobs, cut property taxes, and continue reforming education.

I look forward to working closely with the legislature on these and other initiatives that will continue building Michigan's reputation as a national leader in the movement to reinvent government and make it work for every citizen.

Dallas billionaire Ross Perot has a larger Michigan following this week thanks to the recent efforts of Belleville volunteer Maggie Sutton.

Sutton, a major supporter and organizer of Perot's United We Stand, America, Inc. (UWSA) campaign, spent last Friday, Saturday and Sunday helping collect membership signatures and fees, plus handing out UWSA literature at the Huron Trade Center in Ypsilanti.

"We got a very positive response from the community," Sutton said Monday. "Most people who showed just wanted information to take home and read, but a number of people came in with checks ready to join. Overall, I'm very pleased and overwhelmed at the large number of local Perot supporters that stopped by."

Sutton, a desktop publisher, has spent a large portion of personal time since September lending a hand to the Perot for President campaign. Since November, she again got involved in the UWSA project, which is a nonpartisan, national coalition founded by the hard-talking founder of EDS, whose goal, Sutton said, is to "bring about the necessary reforms in our nation's economy." Sort of a political watchdog group, she added. Locally the group boasts some 30 hard-core members and the numbers are rising.

Michigan volunteers have spent a great deal of recent time, Sutton said, focusing on state legislators who are talking of voting themselves a 5-percent raise sometime this month.

"We've been conducting a telephone blitz to Lansing," Sutton said. "After all the publicity I think it would be political suicide for them to vote a raise now. Everything these days is about accountability."

Sutton added that last the pep talk last Thursday at the Wagon Wheel South Mobile Home Park by UWSA assistant

state coordinator, Cookie Turner, went "real well."

"I would like to see people become more involved," Sutton added, "even if it's just picking up a phone and calling someone. We can't sit home and complain anymore. The world is too complex."

Accidental discovery may end obesity

WASHINGTON — Researchers may have discovered a way to end obesity ... by accident!

In a study with a potential cholesterol lowering agent, scientists noted an unusual side effect. Instead of lower cholesterol levels, patients receiving a natural plant colloid lost weight while body weight in a control group remained constant.

The scientists say the mechanism behind the weight loss is not clear, but suggest it is partially due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories. Scientists in another study published in The British Journal of Nutrition, found that patients consuming the same colloid lost weight in spite of being instructed not to alter normal eating patterns. Despite this evidence, other scientists may not agree on the weight loss benefits of colloids. Someday, pending further study, there could be universal agreement that colloids are helpful in confronting the problem of obesity.

National Dietary Research, whose research topics have been the subject of articles published in recent medical and nutritional journals, has successfully incorporated a series of colloids into a chewable food tablet called FS-1. When used as directed, FS-1 replaces high calorie fats with lower calorie nutrients, thus providing optimum nutrition with a minimum number of fat calories. According to an article published in The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, consciously limiting the amount of food one consumes is not necessary to lose weight, provided you limit the fat.

A Florida company has obtained exclusive distribution rights to FS-1, which is available through pharmacies and other health professionals.

Local psychics to appear Saturday in Westland

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

The answers to many problems in life could be waiting at Joy Manor this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

That is when 20 psychics will meet in one room for the Love, Life and Light Psychic and Holistic Health Fair.

The fair will include psychic readings, crystals and advice from holistic health practitioners.

"I've been doing the fairs since 1988," said Elizabeth, the owner of the Psychic Connection and the organizer of the fair. "Many of the readers who will be at this event, I have known for years."

Before Elizabeth hires psychic readers she puts them through a little test.

"If I don't know them, I usually have them read for me to see how well they read," she said.

Some of the psychics come from neighboring states to participate in Elizabeth's psychic fairs.

"Some are from Ohio, and there is one who comes from Indiana and there have even been some from Illinois," Elizabeth said. "I've had them come from all over."

During the day, there will be several lectures which include: astrology, palmistry, hypnotherapy, dream interpretation, crystal and stone meaning, biomagnetic healing and how to channel your psychic energy.

"A lot of people want to spend the whole day going to a lot of lectures and going to see two and three readers," Elizabeth said. "Some people like to get different types of readings, whether it's palmistry or tarot cards."

The fairs are popular events. "We've had up to 1,000 people come to the door and that was during an ice storm in 1988," Elizabeth said.

Elizabeth has appeared on radio and television shows across the United States and Canada. She has assisted law enforcement agencies on numerous occasions and she writes month horoscopes for The Associated Newspapers.

Other psychic fairs planned include:

Custodial candidates charge schools with discrimination

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

Amid allegations of racial discrimination, custodial employees in the Wayne-Westland school district are hopeful that school officials will revise the current interviewing process for custodian applicants.

Last summer many bus drivers in the district completed a training program hoping to become custodians, according to Art Wood, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. Wood had hoped those employees would have been chosen for the available positions.

"People within our local should be getting those jobs first," Wood said. "We had five people trained as custodians last summer so that they would be qualified for these jobs."

Rather than hire substitute custodians, Wood wanted district officials to hire those union members working in other positions in the district before offering the positions to non-union substitute custodians.

"None of those people were chosen," Wood said. "There are also people in our union who have worked 15 years in the district at three and four-hour jobs."

"If the game is now that I have to go public, then I don't have any problem with that because I am an advocate for my people," Wood said.

Associate Superintendent of Employee Services Bill Taylor explained that applicants' work history, test scores and interviews impact on those selected.

"We do look at their work history and the number of years they have worked for us, but that doesn't guarantee them a job," Taylor said.

Since one of the custodial positions still remained vacant, school board vice-president Vicki Welty questioned the reason the remaining substitute custodians weren't chosen.

"My concern is that we have a lot of substitute custodians in the district," Welty said. "My question is, if our substitute custodians aren't good enough to get a job and we have to re-post, then why do we hire them as substitute custodians?"

Taylor explained that there are benefits to having substitute custodians.

"We have an obligation to keep the buildings clean," Taylor said. "The best way to determine how a person is going to perform is to hire them as a substitute."

"We believe that via the interview route and paper screening route, we are proposing you hire the best five candidates of the 133 who applied," Taylor added.

Wayne-Westland school officials denounced rumors that a Hispanic substitute custodian was overlooked during the interview process for five positions that were approved Monday night.

"We believe we hired the best people for the job," Taylor said. "We have done an excellent job in developing a process which goes far beyond what is required."

Two years ago, district officials were accused of discriminating against three applicants who had applied for five custodial positions, according to Taylor.

"A number of people applied because in today's market these are very attractive jobs," Taylor said.

After the interviewing process had been completed, school officials recommended five substitute custodians for the positions. Two of the five were the sons of two school board members, who were serving at that time.

"We had three complaints made against the district," Taylor added. "One was for age discrimination of a white male. The second was for racial discrimination filed by a black male and the third was for sex discrimination filed by a white female."

The age and sex discrimination charges were dropped by court officials, but the racial discrimination case was sent to the Federal Department of Justice, Taylor said.

"They indicated that they believed we had not acted properly or appropriately by not hiring the black applicant," Taylor said. "To remedy the situation, they asked that we pay him a dollar amount equal to what he would have made as a custodian for one year."

The applicant continued working as a substitute during the year, and was eventually hired by district officials and still works with the district.

"He still works for us and is doing a very good job I might add," Taylor said.

Officials at the Federal Department of Justice have ordered that the district operate under a court decree for two years from last July, according to Taylor.

"The second part of the decree indicates for hourly positions only, we have to publish those positions in The Michigan Chronicle, Detroit periodically send reports to the Justice Department.

"We have also added a perforated portion to our applications, where applicants can indicate their race if they so choose," Taylor said.

We believe we hired the best people for the job. We have done an excellent job in developing a process which goes far beyond what is required.

News and Detroit Free Press, Taylor said. "We also have to Taylor adamantly defended the applicants chosen two years ago. "We believe we hired the best people out there," Taylor said. "The issue was complicated because two of them were the sons of two school board members."

It was one of those rare moments Friday night when the Belleville defense displays a crack and Wayne's Nate Bishop (41) takes advantage of the situation. Duel of defenses Wayne goes one-up on Belleville

It was a duel to the end. A defensive gem at that.

But undefeated Wayne, thanks to a pair of clutch free throws by Donetz Prewitt, and a pair of missed Belleville free throws in the final seconds, claimed a key 50-49 victory Friday night that put coach Chuck Henry and the Zebras in the driver's seat of the Wolverine "A" Conference.

Definitely a big victory for Wayne, the defending champ; a major setback for Belleville, the major Wayne title challenger.

"They will have to chase us," said Henry after the thrilling victory. The Wayne coach added that the narrow margin of victory reflected how evenly matched the two teams are. He warned that - "this thing isn't over by a long shot. Anything can happen."

Belleville coach Michael Garland said both teams played with a lot of pride and a lot of intensity.

"Wayne has a great team. This first encounter with them enforces our opinion of them," said Garland. "These two teams have a lot of respect for one another."

Garland said his team will have to regroup and learn from their experience.

"And I know no one is counting us out yet," Garland added. "There's still the rematch with them over there. That should be another great one."

Both Wayne and Belleville were conditioned to play a grueling full-court press for four quarters, and would not yield easy baskets. Baskets had to be earned. In fact, the intensity was so great, that the atmosphere was more a playoff rather than the first of two conference games between the two conference rivals.

After one period, the two were tied at 10-all; after two periods, Belleville had a narrow 27-26 edge. Wayne opened up a seven-point lead thanks to a 15-7 scoring edge in the third period, however, with Belleville player Nate Griffin turning in an extraordinary effort on defense and denying Wayne access to the basket, the Tigers came back and closed the gap to one.

Belleville could have stashed away the victory at the line with seven seconds left, but it wasn't to be.

Ralph Truitt and Garland Johnson led the hosts with 12 and 11 points, while Wayne had one player in double figures. Prewitt finished with 10 - two of those were the decisive free throws that came with 19 seconds remaining in the game.

Wayne also got a superb job on the boards at both ends of the court from Jason Overton, who counted 11 rebounds.

The defending champs prepared for Belleville with a lopsided 70-25 victory over Lincoln Park. The Zebras had a lopsided 21-6 lead in the first-period and the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

Overton scored 14 points to go along with his nine rebounds, while teammates Antonio Dodd, Bill Romej and Rod Hardison each chipped in with 10.

Griffin tossed in 21 points to pace the Tigers' 70-53 victory over Dearborn Fordson last Tuesday.

Unbeaten Salem shakes off tough Franklin, 77-63

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With the help of a sterling performance by 6-6 junior James Head, undefeated Plymouth-Salem shook off an upset-minded Livonia Franklin, 77-63, Friday night to keep its basketball win streak intact.

Coach Bob Brodie and the Rocks have won all eight of their games this season. They are 2-0 Western Lakes Conference.

"Franklin has a very scrappy team, and they were in striking distance right to the end," said Brodie, whose club has now won eight straight. "We had a 17-point spread at one time, but Franklin, to their credit, just refused to quit."

Salem grabbed a 15-12 first-period lead and increased the advantage to 34-27 at the half. With eight different players scoring, the Rocks pounded out a 21-15 edge after the intermission. They then held on as the Patriots, sparked by Paul Krauscka, Greg Maple and Clem Herrera, rallied back.

Head, a junior guard-forward, sank 17 points, nailed 14 rebounds and counted seven assists for the game. He was joined by the Slone twins - Mike and Brandon - in the double-figure scoring column. Mike chipped in 13 and Brandon had 12 points.

Krauscka finished with a game-high 18 points. Maple and Herrera counted 14 and 13 points for the Patriots, who made 19 of 24 from the free throw line. The Rocks sank 14 of 20 from the charity line.

On Tuesday, after a precarious ride in icy weather conditions, he Rocks managed to slip past a tough Brighton team, 84-79. The Bulldogs led right down to the stretch when Mike Slone and Head took command and led a Rock comeback.

Behind a barrage of three-pointers provided by Dan Clothier and Lancer Bache, Brighton broke to the front 20-17 and stayed there, 36-31, for the half. Salem came back and outscored their hosts 27-20 during a surge that culminated with Mike Slone's three-pointer from mid-court.

Slone's sensational basket put the Rocks up, 60-58, however, Brighton came back and regained the lead, stretching it by as much as five in the closing minutes. Baskets by Mike Slone and Head erased the deficit, however.

Brighton, which came into the battle with a 6-1 record (the Bulldogs' lone loss was to state-ranked Ann Arbor Pioneer) attempted a total of 27 three-pointers. They made nine treys. Salem also got out its long-range artillery, tossing up 17 from three-point distance and hitting on six.

Slone, who had a 33-point game earlier in the year, finished with a game-high 30. Brother Brandon added 17 and Head accounted for 23.

Clothier led the Bulldogs with 22 and Bache had 20.

The Rocks were off Tuesday night and will be on the home court Friday when they hope to improve their record at the expense of one of the hottest teams in the Western Lakes. They will host Farmington, a team that has put together a three-game winning streak.

"Farmington has pretty good size," said Brodie. "And they have won their last three. We have to be ready for them."

Glenn stretches win streak to 5

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Outscoring their opponents 19-9 in the third period, Westland John Glenn players hung on to win a key Western Lakes Conference confidence-builder 76-66 Friday night at the expense of Plymouth-Canton.

It was Glenn's fifth consecutive victory after losing their 1992-93 opener against Ypsilanti.

A pleased Glenn coach Mike Schuette noted that the Rockets managed to penetrate the "inside" against Canton in the second half and that "marked the turning point in the game."

Glenn's 6-6 Ken Taylor also went to work in the pivotal third as he drilled eight of his team high 22 points. Also, Tony Goins contributed six of his 21 points to give the Rockets a 13-point cushion heading into the fourth period.

One shot that was heard throughout the Canton gym was Aaron Scheffer's three-pointer just before the half that apparently convinced the Rockets that they could beat their highly-regarded conference opponents.

But Matt Paupori of Canton kept the Rockets on their toes most of the evening. The sharpshooting guard tossed in six of his game-high 30 points to stake the Chiefs to a 18-14 first period lead. However, Glenn came back and outscored their hosts 19-12, with Taylor collecting eight, to take command 33-30 at half. The Westlanders never relinquished the lead after midway in the second period. Glenn was up by 16 points late in the game as Schuette substituted freely. However, a pair of quick Paupori three-pointers slashed the Glenn advantage to 10 and the Rocket coach had to reconsider.

Owen Crosby also reached double figures for the Chiefs. He had 10. Along with Taylor's 22 and Goins' 16, Scheffer also reached two figures. He had 16.

On Tuesday, the Rockets braved an ice storm and traveled to South Lyons and managed to pull out a close 58-53 victory over their non-conference rivals.

South Lyons took a slim 12-10 first period lead, but the Rockets were up 23-21 in a very low-scoring half.

"They (South Lyons) played a very deliberate ball game and forced to play their game," noted Schuette. "In the second half, our pressure and transition game got to them."

In that third period, John Miller came alive and sank five of his seven points, giving the Westlanders a 10-point advantage (41-31) going into the finale.

Goins and Scheffer scored 15 and 14 points, respectively, but South Lyons Steve Strecker walked off with high-scoring honors. He had 26.

Glenn was back on the hardwood Tuesday night at Taylor Center. They will return home Friday to entertain Livonia Stevenson.

Injured Viking heavyweight suffers 1st loss on the mat

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Inkster High School wrestling coach Sam Ellis sensed "something was wrong." His undefeated heavyweight "didn't have that killer instinct."

"He just wasn't going after his opponent as he had been in his previous matches," Ellis said. "I knew something was wrong. But, unfortunately, I didn't learn what it was until after the match."

Ellis was referring to previously undefeated heavyweight Fred Davis' performance on Saturday at the Riverview Invitational. Davis, with 14 victories behind him - all by pins - was having trouble with opponents he had defeated earlier in the season.

Like John Goldwater of Lincoln Park. Davis had pinned Goldwater in 59 seconds at the Lincoln Park Tournament a week ago. But, in the rematch at Riverview, the Inkster grappler was having problems. He narrowly managed a 9-8 victory over his second-round opponent.

And, against Terry Gerin of Dearborn Heights, a wrestler Davis put on his back in 10 seconds, the Inkster wrestler apparently didn't have the strength to finish him off. Davis won a 23-10 decision to qualify for the championship bout.

In the finals, after 16 consecutive victories, Davis walked on to the mats to face a determined Tony Wilhelm of Melvindale.

Wilhelm took the initiative and aggressively went after the state-ranked Davis. In a short period, the Melvindale wrestler amassed a 10-1 advantage and went on to beat Davis for the gold.

"What I didn't know is that Davis had injured his ribs in practice last week and refused to tell

But Inkster isn't ready to give away cage victory to visitors from Ontario

By TOM MOORADIAN

Inkster rolled out the red carpet for visiting Leamington, Ont. Friday night and showed the visiting cagers and their coaching staff the town.

But the Vikings and coach Spencer Grant weren't ready to give away the store to their international opponents from across the river. Despite the loss of scoring ace James Outlaw to an injury early in the game, the Vikings held off the Ontario quintet and posted a 66-49 victory.

"They are a good team," Grant said. "They are mechanical and tough on the boards. However, I feel our quickness was too much for them. It was a good win for us, especially since we lost Outlaw."

A consistent two-digit scorer and leading rebounder, Outlaw's void was felt in the Viking lineup. It enabled Leamington, with the aid of 6-6 center Max Mastronari, to stay abreast with the Vikings. With Maurice Ballard, also a 6-6 center, and Dewick Davidson supplying the ammunition, the Vikings moved from a slim 14-12 lead to a 34-21 advantage at halftime. They went on to outscore their visitors 19-16 in the third period and sealed the victory with a 14-12 finish.

"We had an opportunity to play everyone in this game," said Grant.

Mastronari led all scorers with 14 points. He also had three blocked shots and 15 rebounds.

Inkster got 11 points from Ballard and 11 rebounds, while Davidson's contribution included 10 points and an equal number of rebounds.

Last Tuesday, the Vikings played their "worst game of the season," according to Grant, and dropped a 53-45 decision to Willow Run. The Vikings never recovered from a horrendous first period when they scored only four points.

Outlaw paced the losers with 17 points and 15 rebounds, the only real bright spot of the evening for Inkster.

And the Vikings won't have it any easier this week, either. They are scheduled to host the No. 1 ranked Class B team in the state. Undeclared Saginaw Buena Vista was to pay Inkster a visit Tuesday night and, on Friday, Highland Park will invade Inkster. The Parkers are in the chase for the Suburban Athletic Conference crown.

Davis will not be in the Viking lineup this week when they travel to Erie-Mason for a 16-team tournament, Ellis said.

"I plan to hold him out until he is physically ready to go," said Ellis.

Southgate Anderson, a perennial power in the Wolverine "A" Conference, won the River-view championship. Anderson piled up 155 1/2 points, beating out second-place Riverview (146) and Woodhaven (145) for top honors at the 17-team tourney. Inkster finished 15.

Earlier last week, Inkster dropped a 39-30 decision to Cranbrook with Anthony Melchor (103), Jay Wilkins (119), Marcelleus Fizer (130), Octavius Parrott (152) and Davis posting victories for the Vikings.

Inkster will launch the Suburban Athletic Conference phase of the season tonight at home as hosts to Willow Run.

Group plans annual dance

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Area residents will be able to kick up their heels this month at a dance planned as a fundraiser for the restoration efforts at the Historic Wayne Theatre.

The Palace Theatre Co. members are planning the dance to collect funds for the first phase of restoration of the theater located on Michigan Avenue.

The first phase involves a contract with Carmine Petrilli, consulting architect, and George Williams, mechanical engineer, according to Bob Welch, president of the Palace Theatre Co.

"Petrilli and Williams will develop schematic plans for the Wayne Historic Theatre and estimate construction cost of mechanical systems, equipment and site improvements," Welch said. "This will help the Palace Theatre Co. ask for funds from possible grantors."

On Jan. 29, the second annual dance party is scheduled at the Wayne/Ford Civic League in Westland, 1661 north Wayne Road. This event features Steve King and the Dittillies and includes pizza, beer and set-ups, according to Welch.

Tickets for the event can be purchased for $12.50 per person at the new Wayne Party Shop, northeast corner of Venoy and Michigan Avenue, and also at "Wild Bills" Wayne Party Store on Wayne Road.

Cost for tickets at the door are $15 per person.

This month the Palace Theatre Co. with the assistance of Cal Sign Co. also installed a 3 foot by 30 foot sign at the front of the building.

"The sign will improve the looks of the Michigan Avenue side of the building and hopefully draw more public attention toward the goals of the Palace Theatre Co.," Welch said.

This year Palace Theatre members would like to establish a resident performing arts group and produce comedy arts and film festivals as fundraisers. The Palace group would utilize other theaters and stages for the fundraising events, according to Welch.

"We are still looking for contributions toward the restoration of the theater," Welch said. "For $250 you can adopt a seat in our theater, and we will attach to it a brass plate with your name inscribed on it."

"We hope more residents will consider making a donation to the theater for the restoration. Just think how a 600-seat performing arts theater will enhance the redevelopment of downtown Wayne by presenting six to eight professional plays and musicals a year performed by

Palace Theatre Co. president Bob Welch is hoping Wayne residents will assist with the restoration of the Historic Wayne Theatre by adopting a seat. ANP photo by Larry DiVizio

Last year Palace officials obtained enough funding from the Haunted House to install a new roof on the building. A heating system is in the works for this year, according to Welch.

It's been a slow process for Palace Theatre officials to renovate the theater, particularly after the state grant awarded to the project was rescinded in Gov. John Engler's budget.

In 1990 the Michigan Youth Corps awarded a $7,700 grant to the Palace Theatre Co. to be used toward interior and exterior work.

CHILDREN2101 Wilson Blvd. • Suite 550 • Arlington, VA 22201
703/235-3900 TDD: 1-800-826-7653

Each year, hundreds of children and young people are abducted and exploited.

Their parents and family wait anxiously day after day for word of their child who was so viciously taken from their home.

The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children is in the business of publicizing and ultimately solving these mysterious disappearances.

The Center, based in Virginia, is responsible for most of the missing children advertisements which you see on milk cartons, billboards and such.

The photographs on this page were taken from the files of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. They are all actively being sought by their parents, with very few leads.

These children may be living in your neighborhood, attending your church, or even sitting next to your child in school.

They are out there somewhere.

Anyone with information concerning the whereabouts of any of these children is asked to call the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children at 1-800-843-5678.

If your child is missing, call your local police department right away.

If your child is at home, hug them and tell them about the danger of the world and teach them to be safe.

Thanks to these local businesses for sponsoring these missing children.

SUBURBAN Living

Making it off Broadway

Former Wayne resident puts audiences in stitches

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

His love for the theater began when Terrence Caza attended Benjamin Franklin Junior High School in Wayne and performed in Cheaper by the Dozen.

This 1976 Wayne Memorial graduate is now a professional actor who has amassed numerous credits for his outstanding performances off Broadway and on screen including various appearances on One Life to Live and All My Children.

Caza is currently at the Birmingham Theatre portraying congressman Richard Willey in Ray Cooney's outrageous comedy Two Into One which will continue until Jan. 31.

In Two Into One, picture a U.S. Congressman, his wife and his mistress in the same Washington hotel, and worse yet, in adjoining rooms. With the congressman's prissy aide, a senior congresswoman, the chambermaid, the hotel manager and waiters all scurrying about trying to stay out of each other's way, this is the making of a hilariously lunatic situation.

Caza, who now lives in New York, said he has very happy memories of living in Wayne. One of his first jobs was delivering The Wayne Eagle.

"I was born in Royal Oak, but we moved to Wayne when I was 9 years old," Caza said. "I received my undergraduate degree in theater and drama from the University of Michigan."

"I have to say I knew that I wanted to be an actor after I performed in Cheaper by the Dozen at Benjamin Franklin. I enjoyed everything about it."

Audiences throughout Michigan have seen Caza during his four seasons off-Broadway and touring the U.S. with John Houseman's The Acting Co. where he appeared in Much Ado About Nothing, As You Like It, Orchards and The Cradle Will Rock.

Other resident theater credits include work at The Hartford Stage Co., Boston Huntington Theatre where he just finished a production of Pal Joey, the Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis, Stagewest in Springfield Mo., The Yale Rep, Arizona Theatre Co., The McCarter Theatre in Princeton, N.J. and Playmakers Rep Co., in North Carolina.

Caza said he enjoys both aspects of entertainment.

"If you ask an actor who has performed on stage, however, they will probably tell you they prefer the theater because of the live audience," Caza said. "Nothing can compare to a live audience. To be able to capture the attention of more than 200 people and make them laugh, that's a great feeling."

"What's also so fantastic about a live performance is that it's different every night."

Although the life of an actor may appear glamorous, the climb up the ladder of success can be difficult if the economy is in a slump, according to Caza.

"Acting jobs sway with the present economy," Caza said. "If there is less money for productions, people will produce less shows. I've been very fortunate because I've always had work."

Does it take a lot of networking to get an acting job?

"It's who you work with, if they remember how well you worked the last time and, yes, networking does help," Caza said.

The work experience for Caza at the Birmingham Theatre is a unique one because the leading lady in the comedy, Mary O'Brady who portrays the wife of the congressman, Pamela Willey, is actually Caza's fiancée.

The other lead actor in Two Into One, Anderson Matthews who portrays George Pigden the congressman's aide, is Caza's best friend.

How did all three land the main roles together for this production?

"It was all by coincidence," Caza said. "All of us auditioned for the roles at separate times. Mary and I have the same agent."

"There must have been at least a couple hundred actors who auditioned for these roles. After we were hired, I remember looking at the notes from one of the casting directors, and it said Mary and I would look good together for this role. Isn't that amazing?"

Caza said the actors rehearsed one week less than the usual three-week preparation before the opening. With all the twists and turns in the plot and remarkable dialogue between the three main characters, audiences would think these individuals rehearsed for months to get the perfection that is presented in this unique production.

"Sometimes it's necessary to take three weeks for rehearsal because you have to get to know the other actors in the production and find out each other's space and what they expect of you or vice versa," Caza said.

"Because we knew each other already, we just went to work and got the script down. We already had the first chapter memorized before we even rehearsed the play."

O'Brady was last seen in Detroit at the Fisher Theatre in the National Tour of Neil Simon's Rumors. Caza said he is hoping to get married in May of this year.

"We've known one another for 12 years," Caza said. "We both attended the same drama class since 1980."

What's in store for the future for this former Wayne resident?

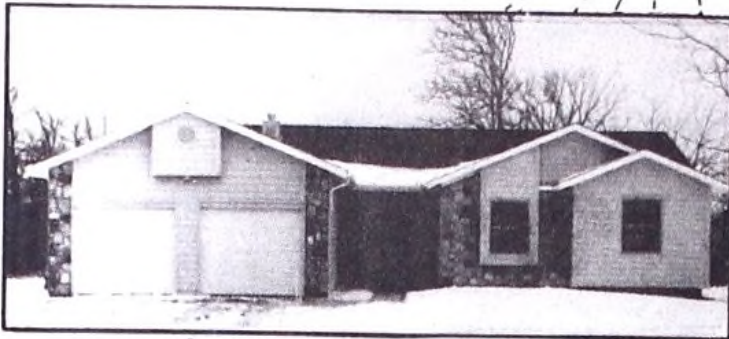

"I just want to keep working and doing what I love so much," Caza said. "I don't think I'll be getting involved with any play writing because it is tremendously difficult. I would like to do more comedy, but I'm open to trying whatever opportunity comes my way."

Two Into One is directed by Ron Holgate. Performances are 8 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday and 2 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday (Jan. 28).

Seniors 60 years or older may purchase tickets for $17 on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Tickets are available at the Birmingham Theatre box office and all Ticketmaster outlets. Call 644-3533 for the various prices of the show.

Suburban sales set to soar

By CRAIG GARRETT
ANP Staff Writer

Uptempo sales for 1993 General Motors cars and trucks is Nick Wang's heady prediction. "The consumer confidence index is climbing and we're anticipating a broad increase in overall sales," said Wang, general manager of Suburban Pontiac/Cadillac/Buick and GMC Truck in Ypsilanti.

"And by the way," he joked, "we have our own auto show every day with the huge selection of General Motors cars and trucks available at the Suburban dealership."

Buick sales and the 90-year-old automaker's reputation are running strong, Wang said, led by LeSabre and Century.

Available in Custom and Limited editions, LeSabre this year offers a refined package of surprising power and safety. The 3800 series V-6 engine coupled with a standard four-speed transmission gives the vehicle some 170 horsepower with plenty of torque for highway and ramp acceleration speed. Fuel management is decent at an EPA 19 city and 28 highway.

Front suspension is MacPherson struts and deflected disc shocks and rear suspension is Chapman struts with variable rate coil springs. Steering is rack-and-pinion with a turning radius only requiring 2.97 full turns of the wheel.

Inside the ride is quiet and smooth with sound muffling additions throughout the dash and trunk areas. Standard equipment includes a driver's side airbag, A/C, front and rear defoggers, power seats and door locks and front wheel disc brakes (ABS is optional), plus LeSabre boasts five new exterior colors.

Century this year is powered by the optional 3300 series V-6 or the standard 2.2L MFI engines. The larger power plant delivers 160 horsepower and decent start-up torque rated at 185 pound-to-foot. New this year for Century are Special and Custom wagon models, plus four new exterior colors, including: Light Driftwood Metallic, Bright White, Ruby Red Metallic and Dark Cherry Metallic.

Cadillac sales, too, are strong. One of the primary reasons, Wang said, is the Northstar System mounted in certain Cadillac models featuring a rocket launching dual overhead cam V-8 engine, joined by road-sensing suspension, traction control and Bosch II anti-lock brakes. Allante will be discontinued, Wang added.

Pontiac sales, with expected sales topping 200,000 units in the 1992 model year, will remain strong and GMC Trucks led the nation in overall mid-and large truck sales.

"We've noticed a lot more (foot) traffic just in the last couple of weeks," Wang added. "When the economy is down, people tend to pay their bills and reduce their debt. I think the trend is swinging back toward larger ticket items like appliances and vehicles and people seem ready to spend a little more money."
